ARE DEPICTED BY FILMActual Scenes at Front Shown by Travelogue Roberson at Convention Hall."On Belgian Battlefields," Title of Four Reels to Be Shown Twice
Daily All Week.

War with all its horrors, utter waste and devastation, was pictured yesterday when the four reels of motion pictures, "On Belgian Battlefields," showing actual scenes at the front, were presented for the first time in Washington before two big audiences in Convention Hall. It seemed to be the opinion of those who viewed the pictures that never has the meaning of war been brought before an audience more vividly and never has war's toll in lives and property destroyed been forced home so realistically as by the medium which The Star has brought to this city for a week's exhibition in connection with the travelogues by Frank R. Roberson.

There was actual fighting—a lot of it—in the pictures which The Star has obtained direct from Photographer Weigle. Machine guns, rifles and artillery all were shown sending forth their missiles of death. Men firing from trenches were seen to fall wounded and were carried to the rear. Others were seen to fall, but were not carried back. These were killed.

There was not a great deal of the spectacular, nothing of the brilliant cavalry or infantry charges or positions carried by storm. It must be remembered, however, that this war is a war in the trenches almost exclusively, and the spectacular does not enter to a large extent. But it is war with all its grim implications and no one realized it more fully than those persons who saw the first exhibitions of the pictures.

Tour Begins in England.

The tour of Belgium really began in England, where a glimpse was given of British troops. Then came the trip across to the continent, with a passing view of the French navy. Then Antwerp was reached, and the trip across devastated Belgium was commenced. Antwerp was shown first as it was when Photographer Weigle reached it. The citizens moved about in their everyday pursuits apparently in no thought of danger. Then came the word that the Germans were coming, which was the signal for flight from the city. Women, old men and children made up the procession largely, their entire worldly effects tied up in the first thing at hand—a bed sheet or a tablecloth, perhaps. As the photographer brought his camera within close observation and alarm could be discerned on their faces. Some were tried to turn hurriedly and look to the rear, the cause being a German shell which had come from the lines beyond and dropped into the nearly deserted city.

Little touches of human interest were everywhere all through the four reels. The Belgian dogs, which came loping up to the firing line, dragging after them the machine guns which were immediately put in operation, were seen to start in fright as a shell burst overhead. Artillerymen, worn out from days of constant fighting, were shown snatching a little sleep on the gun carriages as they were moved from one point in the battle line to another. Soldiers carrying wounded comrades from the front were pictured.

The war travelogue is a complete history of Belgium during the past two months. The burning of Antwerp, the battle of Alost, the destruction of Tournai, the battle of Aerchot, the flooding of Liege and the battle of Malines all were portrayed. But Travelogue Roberson did not confine himself to this alone. He attempted to give by means of his own pictures a correct representation of the war in western Europe and of the different countries involved. He gave glimpses of France, with the leading men of the nation, and, finally, after he had shown Belgium, the country invaded, he gave a glimpse of the country of the invaders, Germany.

Interested spectators yesterday afternoon were the Swedish minister and his wife, W. A. F. Ekengren and Mrs. Ekengren.

MY DOCTOR TOLD ME TO TAKE
FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINEThe Reason Why So Many People Take Father John's Medicine for Colds and Body Building.

When Mrs. C. H. Dunkel of 33 Linden street, Reading, Pa., was asked why she took Father John's Medicine for her cough, she replied, "it was recommended by my doctor." The same question was asked and a similar answer returned by the following:—Mrs. A. E. Hixon, 30 Larkin street, Bangor, Me.; Henry F. Villet, 25 Crown street, Meriden, Conn.; Frank H. Hatim, Pa.; Miss Catherine Boyle, 45 Blackburn street, Fairhaven, Mass.; Charles L. Brown, Irving, Ill., as well as a great many others.

Physicians, hospitals and other institutions all over the world endorse the merits of Father John's Medicine because they know of its history and value. It is best for colds, coughs and throat and lung troubles, and it makes flesh and strength for those who are weak and run down. A doctor's prescription, free from alcohol and poisonous drugs in any form.

LIFTING OF QUARANTINE
IN PORTION OF MARYLANDModification of Regulations That Were Adopted Following Discover-ery of Foot and Mouth Disease.

Modification of the foot and mouth disease quarantine over Maryland has been made to the extent that it will permit shipment of livestock for any purpose into Maryland, except into the counties of Washington, Frederick, Carroll, Baltimore, Harford, Cecil, Montgomery, Howard, Kent, Queen Anne, Talbot and Caroline. With the exception of those counties livestock may also be shipped out for immediate slaughter at places where federal meat inspection is maintained. Ohio has been modified in much the same way, twenty-seven counties being excepted.

Original Order.

The original quarantine prohibited the shipment of livestock into the restricted areas for any purpose save that of immediate slaughter, and prohibited absolutely the shipment of such stock out of the quarantined area. The privileges granted by the modified quarantine, however, have not been granted certain counties, as in the enumerated exceptions in Maryland, and no stock can be shipped out except after a preliminary inspection and certification by the federal authorities.

The Department of Agriculture states that further modifications of the quarantine probably will be made in the near future.
